echeloning	organizing units for movement. Like task-organizing, echeloning is a predeployment standard operation procedure that establishes a priority for movement within the task force to accommodate available lift. Echelons may be divided, for example, into advanced parties, main body, follow-on forces, and closure forces. Within each echelon, there must be appropriate combat, combat support, and combat service support elements. Planning for each echelon must include numbers of vehicles and personnel, consumable supply requirements, and updated unit movement data and automated unit equipment list. Habitual support relationships between combat and combat service supports units must be established during the planning stages. In principle, combat service support units must be adaptable, flexible, and capable of supporting a wide variety of equipment and units. I
1-Day (ambiguous warning)	The unnamed day on which intelligence indicators are recognized.	joint deployment community	those headquarters, commands, and agencies involved in the training, preparation, movement, reception, employment, support, and sustainment of military forces assigned or committed to a theater of operations or objective area. The JDC usually consists of the JCS, the services, certain service major commands, including the service wholesale logistics commands, unified and specified commands and their service component commands, transportation operating agency, maneuver training commands, and joint task forces as applicable to a given scenario.
IMA	individual mobilization augmentee
immediate mobilization	full mobilization in the event of attack of CONUS or a nuclear attack.
individual mobilization augmentee	individual members of a service's selected reserve who have an annual training requirement and are preassigned to a wartime required manpower authorization. In addition to filling these authorizations upon mobilization, IMAs may also be ordered to active duty under the 200,000 Presidential call-up authority.	Joint Operation Planning and Execution System	the DOD-directed, JCS-specified system used in planning and executing global and regional joint military operations. JOPEs consists of personnel, procedures, directives, communication systems, and electronic data processing systems to directly support deliberate planning and time-sensitive planning and execution.
individual ready reserve	members of the ready reserve not assigned to the selected reserve and not on active duty. The reservists may be mobilized: a. to provide filler requirements for AC units; b. to form new active force units; c. to replace combat losses.		a. JOPEs Level One Data. Basic force information neither time-sequenced nor scenario-oriented.
industrial mobilization	the transformation of industry from its peacetime activity to the industrial program necessary to support the national military objectives. It includes the mobilization of materiel, labor, capital, production facilities, and contributory items and services essential to the industrial program.		b. JOPEs Level Two Data. All Level One data plus scenario-oriented data.

LOGCAP	Logistics Civil Augmentation Program	MOBERS	Mobilization Equipment Redistribution System
LOGMARS	logistics application of automated marking and reading symbols	MOBEX	mobilization exercise
LOGNET	logistics data network	mobilization site	the designated location where a reserve component unit mobilizes or moves after mobilization for further processing, training, and employment. Differs from a mobilization station in that it is not necessarily a military installation.
LOGSAFE	logistics sustainability analysis feasibility estimator
LOTS	logistics-over-the-shore
LRC	lesser regional contingency
	M
MA	marshaling area	mobilization and training equipment site	a site at which a portion of an ARNG unit's authorized equipment is positioned by direction of CNGB and maintained to support unit mobilization and training
MAC	Military Airlift Command
MACOM	major Army command	mobilization station	the designated military installation (active, semiactive, or state-owned/controlled) to which a reserve component unit is moved for further processing, organizing, equipping, training, an employment and from which the unit may move to a sea port of embarkation or aerial port of embarkation.
MAIRS	Military Airlift Integrating Reporting System
MAITS	maintenance assistance and instruction teams
marshaling area	the geographic location where a deploying unit assembles, holds, and organizes supplies and/or other equipment for onward movement.	mobilization shipments configured for operational planning and execution	MOBSCOPE provides for planning and initiating mobilization movements. This program uses mobilization scenario data and COMPASS-maintained unit movement data to provide MTMC commercial movement requirements for RC unit moves to the MS. MTMC also uses MOBSCOPE to issue contingency standing route orders.
MAT	mobilization assistance team
MATES	mobilization and training equipment site	mobilization equipment redistribution system	the system used by MS commanders to redistribute or ship POMCUS unit residual equipment items to fill high priority requirements.
MBODD	mobilization origin departure date
MBSAD	mobilization station arrival date
MCA	movement control agency
MCC	movement control center

mobilization tables of distribution and allowances	an authorized document that shows the planned mobilization mission, organizational structure, and personnel and equipment requirement for table of distribution and allowance units.	NAF	nonappropriated fund
Mobilization Personnel Processing System	a system that speeds the preparation and dispatch of mobilization orders for IRR personnel and pre-positions personnel accessioning data from members of RC units, IRR, and retirees at MS.	national security emergency	any occurrence, including natural disaster, military attack, technological emergency, or other emergency that seriously degrades or seriously threatens the national security of the United States.
Mobilization Stationing Planning and Execution System	a FORSCOM computer subsystem supported by the Worldwide Military Command and Control System. It is designed to support mobilization stationing planning within the operation planning system and provide the base line for planning and executing mobilization operations.	National Military Command System	a system of JCS command and control centers consisting of the national military command center (NMCC) in the Pentagon, the alternate NMCC at Site R, and the national emergency command post (NEACP)
MOBPERS	Mobilization Personnel Processing System	NCA	National Command Authorities
MOBScope	mobilization shipments configured for operational planning an execution	N-Day	an unnamed day before C-day, for example, NOO2 means two days before C-Day. For planning purposes N-Day is a 24-hour period. For deliberate planning, it is the day active forces are notified by the Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff to prepare for deployment, employment, and redeployment. N-Day is assumed to be the same as M-Day in those tables listing forces that require mobilization. However, at execution, N-Day may be independent of the outbreak of hostilities (D-Day) or mobilization (M-Day).

PLASN	planning and training associations	R-Day	the day hostile forces are first prepared to attack
PLL	prescribed load list	RDD	required delivery date
PMCS	preventive maintenance checks and services
POD	port of debarkation	ready-to-load date	the date a unit is projected as capable of departing an installation (origin or mobilization station) en route to a POE.
POE	port of embarkation	RECBN	reception battalion
POM	preparation for overseas movement	redistribution	reallocation or reassignment of personnel, or the act of effecting transfer in control, use, or location of materiel between Army installations as directed by an intermediate or MACOM headquarters.
POMCUS	pre-positioning of materiel configured to unit sets (JOPS); pre-positioned overseas materiel configured to unit sets (DOD); pre-positioned organization materiel configured to unit sets (USA).	RELMS	rapidly erectable light mobilization structures
POMCUS unit residual shipment	equipment remaining after a unit deploys.	required delivery date	the date a unit is required to arrive at a specific destination (major unit assembly area/operational area) to complete unloading in support of a specific requirement.
port of embarkation	an air or sea terminal at which troops, units, military-sponsored personnel, unit equipment, and materiel board and are loaded.	reserve coponents	the US Army Reserve and the Army National Guard.
port of debarkation	an aerial port or sea port within the theater of operations where the strategic transportation of forces is completed. It may not be the final destination of a force.
PORTS	port characteristics file
PRB	personnel replacement battalion
PREPO	pre-positioned stocks

retired reserve	those individuals whose names are placed on the retired reserve list. Members of the retired reserve may, if qualified, be ordered to active duty involuntarily in time of war or national emergency declared by Congress, or when otherwise authorized by law, and then only when it is determined by the Secretary of the Army that adequate numbers of qualified individuals in the required categories are not readily available in the ready reserve or in active status in the standby reserve.	SRF	summary reference file
RG	readiness group	SRP	soldier readiness program
RLD	ready-to-load date	standard requirement code	a basic set of codes integral to each current table of organization and equipment that expresses each possible combination or variation thereof and, when associated with organization data, is the basis for personnel and supply computations.
RMEC	regional military emergency coordinator	Standard Installation Division Personnel System	an automated system controlled and maintained by DA and designed to support the personnel strength and management information needs of field commanders and their staffs.
ROM	reception and onward movement	standby reserve	those units and members of the reserve components (other than those in the ready reserve or retired reserve) who are liable for active duty only after the Secretary of the Army, with the approval of the Secretary of Defense, determines there are not enough readily available units or members in the ready reserve in the required category.
RORO	roll-on/roll-off
ROS4	reduced operational status, four days
RPA	Reserve Personnel Army
RRF	ready reserve fleet
	S	STANFINS	Standard Financial System
S-Day	the day the President authorizes the ordering of not more than 200,000 members of the selected reserve to active duty for up to 90 days with the possible extension of up to an additional 90 days. The selected reserve call-up is not a part of partial or full mobilization, but provides the foundation for further expansion of the active armed forces (such as partial mobilization).	STARC	state area command state movement control center	the agency responsible for performing the convoy movement control responsibilities of the adjutant general in each state.
		state area command	a mobilization entity within the ARNG state headquarters and headquarters detachment that may be ordered to active duty when ARNG units in that state are alerted for mobilization. The state area command provides for control of mobilization ARNG units from home station until arrival at mobilization station. It is also responsible for planning and executing military support for civil defense land defense plans under the respective area commander and military family assistance.

tailoring	whereas task-organizing and echelon-ing are preplanned, tailoring is situationally dependent. Units and unit movement data may be added to or subtracted from a planned task organization based on the mission and available lift. Additionally, availability of pre-positioned equipment near the area of operations, host nation/contract services, or other infrastructure assets are combat multipliers that allow for multiple requirements to move simultaneously to the operational area. Tailoring occurs after initial strategic lift, pre-positioned assets, and host nation/contract services or assets have been identified.	TEA	Transportation Engineering Agency
		TELNET	telecommunications network
		TFE	transportation feasibility estimator
		time-phased force and deployment data	computer-supported data base portion of an operation plan that contains time-phased force data, nonunit-related cargo and personnel data, and movement data for the operation plan. Information includes in-place units, prioritized arrival of units deployed to support the OPLAN, routing of forces to be deployed, movement data associated with deploying forces, estimates of nonunit-related cargo and personnel movements to be conducted concurrently with deployment of forces, and estimates of transportation requirements.
